Russians Hurl Back Nazis From Moscow Front; Fresh Troops Arrive From Siberia

Germans Reported to Be Throwing More Reserves Into Battle For Red Capital; Within 15 Miles of Don River Port

London, Oct. 28—(AP)—The Russian armies defending Moscow have been strengthened by fresh reserves from Siberia and in a series of fierce counterattacks have thrown back the Germans as much as ten miles on some sectors, informed sources here said tonight.

Late dispatches said that bad weather was slowing the Germans, with rain and light falls of snow turning the ground of some regions into quagmires.

The German drive on Rostov was reported slackened by stubborn soviet resistance and lengthening communications.

The Red army launched counterattacks on all sectors of the Moscow front today, according to a correspondent of Red Star quoted in a Moscow dispatch to Reuters.

The Germans were said to be throwing fresh reserves continually into the battle, and concentrating their main forces on the right and left wings.

On the southern front, an authoritative source in London said, the Germans had advanced to within 10 or 15 miles of Rostov, the big port on the Don river.

New Red Positions
On the Moscow front the Russians were said in Red Star reports to have fortified themselves in new positions after their counterattacks.

Commander Rokossovsky's units beat off the Germans twice in attacks on the village of "S". Forty of the Germans' 80 tanks were reported destroyed.

Other battles were raging in the village of "G" and the town of "N".

Heavy fighting was said by an authoritative source here to be raging both north and south but "there has not been very much movement anywhere."

"Very Good Sign"
The lack of movement, he said, is "a very good sign."

It was conceded here, however, that Adolf Hitler's armies already have succeeded in eliminating most of the rich Donets basin's industries from the soviet economy with occupation of the area only partly completed.

Today's soviet information bureau communique, broadcast by the Moscow radio, mentioned fighting in the directions of Mzhaisk and Maloyaroslavets on the Moscow front and Kharkov and Tsiannog in the Donets region, all places it has been naming for some time.

The two Moscow sectors have been appearing in the daily communique for about a week. Mzhaisk is 57 miles from Moscow on

Taft Says Repeal Of Neutrality Act Would Mean War

Senator Believes FDR Would Have Authority For Undeclared War

Washington, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) replied to President Roosevelt's condemnation of "hamstringing provisions" in the neutrality act today with a declaration that repeal legislation, if passed, would give the president authority to "carry on an undeclared war."

The senate galleries were crowded as Taft took the floor to state the opposition's case.

"The passage of the resolution before the senate is direct authority from the congress to the president to carry on an undeclared war against Germany, Italy and Japan, on all the oceans of the world, and in all the ports into which sea-going ships may sail," the Ohioan said solemnly.

Urges "No" Vote.
"If the members of the senate intend to keep their pledges to the people of the United States, pledges made by themselves, by their leaders and by their party, they can only vote 'no' on the present resolution," he declared.

Alluding to Mr. Roosevelt's re-affirmation of "shoot on sight" orders to the navy, Taft said that anyone who heard him "can hardly doubt that he is proposing that the United States carry on an undeclared war, and asking congress for authority to do so."

In his Navy Day address last night, Roosevelt said he saw only "honesty and realism" in the senate foreign relations committee ac-

Bodies of Miners Removed After Gas Explosion in Shaft

Daniel Boone, Ky., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Bodies of 15 miners killed in an explosion of gas at the Stirling Coal company mine here were removed from the mine by rescue squads early today.

The first body was removed to the surface at 3:15 a. m., and the others were brought out quickly. All were taken to Nortonville, four miles northeast of here to be prepared for burial. At an inquest held by Coroner Carl Hoffman at Nortonville, the jury returned the verdict:

"Death was due to an explosion."

Meanwhile, C. A. Herbert of Vincennes, Ind., district engineer of the United States Bureau of Mines, said an investigation of the explosion yesterday, from which 38 men were rescued, would be launched probably tomorrow.

Herbert said the miners were killed by a gas explosion but the definite cause of the blast had not yet been determined.

Bodies of the victims, which were found early last night, almost 12 hours after the explosion, were brought to the surface by way of an air shaft, through which 34 of the rescued miners were brought from the pit within two hours after the blast. The other four survivors were able to leave through the main entrance before it was filled by gas.

In the above picture "Dick" as he is familiarly known, has just completed the pressing of several bushels of pears which have been converted into cider.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 28.—(AP)—An official 1942 Illinois election calendar, listing dates governing state and local elections next year, came off the presses today and Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes said copies would be distributed this week to county clerks.

Former Dixon Man Confesses Theft of Dykema Auto

Early on the morning of Oct. 20, a report was made to the police to the effect that an automobile belonging to George Dykema of Fulton had been taken from the Kenneth Ruby garage on Ottawa avenue. The car had been left in the custody of George Loescher of this city and was stored in the garage.

Chief Van Bibber broadcast the description of the stolen car and also of a suspect who was known to have possessed a key to the garage, who likewise disappeared on the same night. At noon today police of Clinton, Ill., telephoned Chief Van Bibber, stating that they were holding Harry West, formerly of Dixon, who had confessed having stolen the car from the Ruby garage and leaving it in Bloomington.

A warrant for his arrest and return to Dixon was being issued this afternoon and local officers will leave for Clinton to return him to this city. Bloomington police were searching for the stolen car in that city, which is also to be returned.

Proposes Strikes Be Classed as Sabotage If Retard Defenses

Washington, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Senator Bailey (D-NC) proposed in the senate today an amendment to the pending armed ship bill which would bring labor strikes within the category of sabotage when their intent was to retard defense production.

Bailey's action came as President Roosevelt confronted John L. Lewis with a virtual ultimatum for a speedy end to the captive coal mine strike.

Heavy fines and imprisonment would be imposed on leaders and participants in strikes, under Bailey's proposal.

Senator Byrd (D-Va) told the senate that the president could end strikes in defense industries

"Bicycle Built for Two" Becomes Theme Song of Death as Fatalities Increase

Philadelphia, Oct. 28.—(AP)—The gay bicycling tunes which father once chirped as he pedaled along streets uncumbered with heavy automobile traffic are becoming modern theme songs of death, the report of a safety expert showed today.

"Safety engineers throughout the country are frankly puzzled and alarmed by the bicycle trend," said Edward P. Curran, safety director for the Keystone Automobile club, reporting that in Pennsylvania alone last year 43 cyclists were killed in highway accidents, an increase of 258 per cent over 1932. The injured totaled 1,390.

Violation of traffic safety rules is the principal cause, too, he declared.

"Widespread use of bicycles definitely takes the 'bike' out of the 'fad' classification," Curran added, "and the problem which confronts the states is made more complex by the fact that a great majority of users are children."

Kids and dandies of the early 1900's had comparatively little to watch out for during the era when wheels became one of the nation's favorite means of locomotion.

Within the past decade, the bike has surged back into popularity. Dr. John R. Bowman of the Pennsylvania Bureau of Highway Safety, found annual production has been more than 1,000,000 since 1935.

Lieut. Drury said that in Poppe's car detectives found a cash bag from the Illinois National Bank & Trust Company, Rockford, Ill., and that he had asked the Federal Bureau of Investigation to assist in the investigation of the prisoners.

President Bares Nazi Plot For Partitioning Of Latin America; Raps Labor War

Damns Torpedoes in Navy Day Address Which Is Heard by Radio in Four Corners of Earth Last Night

Washington, Oct. 28.—(AP)—President Roosevelt damned the torpedoes and called for full speed ahead today in the nation's efforts to hasten "the destruction of Hitlerism."

In a Navy Day address that went to the four corners of the earth by radio, the chief executive declared last night that "the shooting has started" . . . America has been attacked.

Then he used for his keynote the fighting words which Admiral Farragut gave to history in the battle of Mobile Bay.

He pledged that military supplies of all kinds would reach Hitler's foes, despite all nazi seaway threats, and he added with firm assurance:

"In the light of a good many years of personal experience, I say that it can never be doubted that the goods will be delivered by this nation, whose navy believes in the tradition of 'damn the torpedoes; full speed ahead!'"

"Will Be Stopped"
He told the world that "the forward march of Hitlerism can be stopped—and it will be stopped."

"Very simply and very bluntly," he said, "we are pledged to pull our own oar in the destruction of Hitlerism."

He called attention to his order commanding the navy to "shoot on sight," whenever axis raiders are encountered.

"Those orders stand," he said sternly.

The speech was Mr. Roosevelt's first public pronouncement on international affairs in six weeks, and he used it to cover an important series of topics.

He charged that the Hitler regime had already mapped and planned the future partitioning of much of Latin-America into five vassal states. Documentary proof of this, he said, is now in the hands of the United States government.

He charged, too, that the nazi had completed a secret program --to be put into effect when the time was ripe--for exterminating all existing religions and replacing them with a new order credo which would have Mein Kampf for its Bible, the swastika and naked sword for its symbols.

Will Help In New Peace
He gave his promise that once the "curse of Hitlerism" had been ended, the United States "shall help to establish a new peace which will give the decent people everywhere a better chance to live and prosper in security and in

Navy Day Speech Brings Mixture of Comments in U. S.

Washington, Oct. 28.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's Navy Day speech drew a mixture of praise and criticism from members of congress today, supporters of neutrality act revision generally applauding the address and opponents of pending amendments taking an opposite view.

Press Secretary Stephen Early said White House telephone lines and the telephone switchboard had "collapsed" under the load of messages evoked by the speech. Early said they ran about 8 to 1 in favoring it.

Early said a radio (CBS) survey showed the speech had the fourth largest audience rating recorded, being 51.9 per cent in the United States alone and composed only of home audiences. On the basis of this survey it was estimated 50,000,000 people in their homes heard the speech and that an uncounted but vast audience outside this country listened also.

The highest audience rating yet recorded was 70 for the address.

Cash Bag From Bank In Rockford Found In Gang Roundup

Chicago, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Four men believed by the police to constitute a burglary gang were rounded up today on a tip by a garageman plus fast detective work. Two girl dancers, companions of the men, also were seized for questioning.

Lieut. William Drury said the captures in the Wilson avenue night life district developed this way:

A garageman reported a car with Kentucky license plates he had serviced contained blackjacks, pistols and a machine gun. A squad spotted the car, unoccupied, in front of a night club. Two girls and one man were nabbed when they approached, the man identifying himself as Robert Nicholson, 25, alias Lynn, of Chicago, and admitting he had escaped jail at Covington, Ky., where he had been held on a burglary charge.

Keep Rendezvous
Detectives kept a rendezvous that Nicholson had, meeting another car with Ohio license plates, and seizing a Chicago man while a third escaped amid police gunfire. The escapee later was seized at his room. Lieut. Drury said he identified himself as Edward Poppe of Huntington, W. Va., and admitted burglaries at Huntington, also Racine and Kenosha, Wis.

The fourth man, a Chicagoan, was arrested to Nicholson's apartment and lured to Poppe's car.

Lieut. Drury said that in Poppe's car detectives found a cash bag from the Illinois National Bank & Trust Company, Rockford, Ill., and that he had asked the Federal Bureau of Investigation to assist in the investigation of the prisoners.

Toni Harding, Rock River Beauty Queen, Describes Hollywood; Says She's "Luckiest Girl in the World"

MY TRIP TO CALIFORNIA

By TONI HARDING

Ever since the Louella Parsons-Ronald Reagan Homecoming things have been a big dream to me. I have been "Toni in Wonderland."

The Dixon Lions Club fixed up everything for me and did I ever enjoy it! On the way out to Hollywood, at each one of the Streamliner stops I delivered a letter of greetings from the Dixon Lions club to Lions clubs of Cheyenne, Wyoming, Laramie, Wyoming, Ogden, Utah, Salt Lake City, Utah, Los Angeles and Hollywood, California. Much to my surprise each club gave me a nice gift of flowers, candy or a neckerchief.

When I arrived at Los Angeles, I was met by Mr. Cain and Mr. Denherder, presidents of the Los Angeles and Hollywood Lions Clubs. Louella Parsons went without her breakfast to meet me. At eight o'clock in the morning too! The photographers took a lot of pictures. It was all very exciting.

Later that morning Louella Parsons made arrangements for me to take a tour through the Twentieth Century Fox studios. First we visited the sets. I saw many favorite stars, for instance, Lynn Bari, Charles Ruggles and Charlotte Greenwood made a scene "The Perfect Snob."

While eating lunch with the beautiful Jane Russell I recognized Charlie Chan, Sheila Ryan, and so many other familiar faces. Photographers took a lot of pictures of me with the actors and actresses, directors.

Screen Test Is Successful
My screen test must have been a success for I was offered a contract just before I left. Even though it was tempting I felt that I wanted to get my education first. I think they thought I was crazy but they told me I was probably right. They asked me to come back.

That evening I had dinner with Louella Parsons and her cousin Gordon Maynard and several ladies. We dined at the famous Brown Derby. It was a good night to go because it was "maid's night out" and most of the stars were there. They all came over and talked to Louella so I was introduced to Misha Auer, Pat O'Brien, Bonita Granville, Jackie Cooper, Frank Morgan and others.

The next day Louella Parsons had planned for me to go to the Metro Goldwyn Mayer studios. I was chaperoned by Mrs. Denherder, wife of the Hollywood Lions club president. We first visited the sets and saw them making a scene in "Vanishing Virginia." Robert Taylor and Edward Arnold in "Johnnie Eager," Red Skelton, Dan Daily, Ann Southern, Marcia Hunt, Virginia "dead-pan" O'Brien in "Panama Hattie," Mickey Toni Harding, vivacious young Morrison high school senior, is pictured above with a few of the many stars from Hollywood's bright celluloid skies she met during her recent trip to the movie capital as a reward for winning the title of Rock River Valley Beauty Queen at Dixon's Louella Parsons-Ronald Reagan Homecoming last month.

At the left, below, the young beauty queen is having luncheon with Dixon's favorite son, Dutch Reagan, on the Warner lot. An account of her "long visit with Ronnie," her impressions of other film luminaries she met, and many other highlights of her thrilling trip will be found in Toni's own story elsewhere in these columns.

Company A Plans Halloween Dance for Friday Night

Halloween and the jolly, informal air that surrounds its celebration are so well-liked that parties begin well before the night itself and linger on for even a few days into November. The popular festival, known in England as Nutcrack Night, will be on the very night, Friday, Oct. 31, at the Dixon Armory, where members of Company A, Illinois Reserve Militia, will be entertaining with a Halloween dance.

The home guards are planning everything for their guests' pleasure, including free balloons, noise-makers, confetti, and other favors. To accommodate high school students and other football fans, dancing will not begin until 9 o'clock. Carlier Lauer's orchestra has been engaged for the occasion.

Proceeds from this autumn dancing party will be used to meet expenses incurred by the Company during Dixon's Louella Parsons Day celebration. The home guards have received highly complimentary letters from practically every community throughout this section of the Rock river valley, regarding the Company's efficient control of crowds during the gigantic celebration.

Plans for Friday evening's dance have been approved by all committeemen serving during the celebration, and most of the workers are assisting with ticket sales. Tickets may be secured from any committeeman and Company member, or at The Dixon Evening

Telegraph and Chamber of Commerce offices.

A Thought For Today

For I say unto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth, till ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.—Matthew 23:39.

That in such righteousness to them by faith imputed they may find justifications towards God, and peace of conscience.—Milton.

The Song of Bread

A man said in a prose poem that smacked of semi-Biblical beauty and truth:

"Love bread, heart of the home, savor of the repast, joy of health;

"Respect bread, sweat of the brow, pride of labor, poem of sacrifice;

"Honor bread, glory of the fields, fragrance of the earth, feast of life;

"Do not waste bread, richness of the fatherland, sweetest gift of God, most holy reward of human toil."

And his people believed him. They knew the truth of what he said long before he said it. For centuries upon centuries the peasant people carefully tilled the fields, sowed the wheat, reaped the harvest, turned it into flour, baked it into bread, made it the true staff of life not only for themselves, but for the poor and humble workers in the congested cities.

A little bread, a little wine, a little freedom was all the people asked. Then the man took their freedom away from them. But still they had their bread and their wine. Still they were fairly content, for they had peace with their simple meals.

Then the man took their peace away from them. He sent their sons into battles on the sea, on the land and in the air. They grieved, for they did not want the war. But still they had their bread.

Then the man took part of their bread away from them. He said the war made it necessary. He reminded them of the slogan he had painted and carved all over the country: "Work, obey, fight."

Still the people, the older people, worked and obeyed, while their sons fought. But there was hollowness in their stomachs and concealed bitterness and rebellion in their hearts.

The people are the Italians. The man is Mussolini. Hunger and privation and suffering and wounds and death are the price the people are paying to have a Mussolini.

Decision That Sear the Soul

Have you ever been a hungry child?

As an American, in a land of milk and honey, it is doubtful whether you have. You have seen children cry for ice cream. You have seen them cry because dinner was late. At the very worst, you have seen children who, because their parents were in desperate circumstances, have missed a dinner or two. If so, you did something about it instantly.

Population of all the non-German countries occupied by German and Italy is, in a round number, 180 million. We mean such countries as The Netherlands, Denmark, Norway, Greece and others. Half of these 180 millions are children who never have participated in politics, who did not choose their governments, who know nothing about treaties or alliances. Most important of all, they are in no wise responsible for the acts of their elders—much less for the conduct of Adolf Hitler.

These children, judging by reports from Europe, are hungry perpetually. They receive about half the actual requirements of an American child. Fed in this manner they can not develop normal bodies and sound minds. Europe's occupied countries are being damaged to the extent of a whole generation.

In 1940 it was forecast that during the last winter there would be hunger in Europe at least, or famine at the worst. Acute famine did not materialize, but they are predicting that catastrophe for this winter.

Leave prophecies for the experts—but have you even seen a famine-stricken child? Not the one who cries for a lollipop—but the one whose ribs can be counted at ten paces; whose eyes sink deeply into the skull; whose legs and arms are like matchsticks; who is too weak to cry for food?

Hitler has intimated that he can feed the occupied populations, but it is a notorious fact that Europe does not produce enough food for her own use even in time of peace. All Europe, including the Russian Ukraine, can not provide a balanced diet. Hitler could not feed all his victims even in time of peace, with no blockade to hamper his style. With that fact staring us in the face it is pointless to argue that Hitler is responsible for the diet of his victims—even though that argument is true.

Governments of England and the United States have decreed that the blockade must be maintained. They drive at the worthy objective of eliminating Hitler, but the chief harm has been done to children of the occupied lands. There is enough food in Europe to feed Hitler and his nazis. If children and adults of occupied lands die of starvation, there is just that much more food—and acres for the nazis and Italians.

Blockade of so many peoples conceivably might become a two-edged sword that would hurt the blockaders by turning the starving nations against them, and make more willing allies for Hitler. It all depends upon those psychological developments which no man can foresee.

Most people are more interested in pay day than in making every day pay.

Beauty secret: Keeping your nose out of other people's business prevents it from becoming flat.

With vacation season over, this is the time of year when country relatives heave a sigh of relief.

Dieting to reduce doesn't count when you do it only between meals.

The more you live as if you are the only person in the world, the more you are out of it.

Large audiences were present for both services and a large love offering for the evangelist was given. The average attendance for the services when the Evangelist preached was 143.

Rev. R. S. Wilson the pastor announced that an opportunity would be given to those who desire to unite in fellowship with the church, in the near future. Persons desiring this should meet with the Membership Committee Wednesday evening after prayer service.

Regular services will be held next Sunday, with the pastor preaching morning and evening. Prayer service will be held on Wednesday evening.

Tuesday evening of this week the Young Peoples Classes of the Sunday school and the Intermediate League will hold a Halloween party at the Zigler farm near Penrose. Transportation will be provided if the young people will meet at the church at 7 p. m. Old clothes are to be worn.

Friday evening, the Senior League is sponsoring a party for the older young people, including the young married people. This will be held at the Community House.

Thursday evening, Boy Scout troop No. 85 will meet, at the church.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Oct. 27 — This vague new official talk about doubling our armament production makes good victory propaganda, but it will be easier to converse about than to do.

Pieced together from various recent suggestions of Mr. Roosevelt and the war department (and interpolated by necessarily anonymous officials) the plan is this:

Our arms building calls now for expenditure of $45,000,000,000 in the next two years. We are to double the amount and spend $90,000,000,000 (an amount greater than was earned by every man, woman and child in the United States last year.)

We are to start toward this doubling within the next two months and hope to accomplish it in 1943, two years hence. It is not to be a bulk program laid down in one proposal, but submitted piecemeal from time to time. First items will be tanks and planes.

Mind you, we are not increasing our present production—which is relatively nothing—merely our anticipations for the future.

And, of course, figures are not to be given out on the numbers of planes or tanks we will produce each month. Such figures have now been banned by executive direction. So no one will know the disparity between our production and our anticipations until it is all over.

The defects in this vision are obvious. Take the tank picture for a typical example. To double the expected output, you will not only have to double the size of factories now manufacturing tanks but also vastly increase capacity of steel plants. Both are now operating at utmost. The construction job would require years.

But the administration is working up a scheme to shortcut that delay. It was hinted in SPAB Director Donald Nelson's speech in Chicago. Mr. Nelson merely said civilian users of steel (and other needed materials) must skimp. What he meant was that there will be no new automobiles, refrigerators, washing machines, electric vacuum cleaners and houses (other than defense houses) available a few months hence if the doubling promise is carried out. Those officials who are serious about carrying out the idea say that by next summer, none of these and similar durable-consumers goods will be available.

So far the government has been taking only what it could reasonably expect to use from normal business for its armament program. Under the tank program it would have to take all—and then some.

The prospects of what this would do to the life of the country are so fantastic as to be inconceivable ahead of realization. Certainly everyone in the automobile business would be making tanks or be out of work. What of the retail auto dealers and salesmen with only used cars left? What of prices? What of transportation with the railroads denied steel and new trucks unavailable?

Obviously even the beginning of the new program cannot be realized without a breakdown of business as we know it now.

Where is the money to come from? Even if the program pushes the earnings of the people (national income) up to $120,000,000 by 1943, the rate of spending would take half if it. Further taxation cannot furnish this kind of money. Neither can borrowing. The threat of monetary inflation thus becomes involved.

Behind this explosive new conception of what is needed, is a change of official outlook on the war. They say now that Hitler must be defeated in battle (see Licks' last speech). They have apparently abandoned the theory that he can be squeezed out by economic blockade. Pessimism about Russia exists. The official rumor is around that the nazis will strike through the Caucasus into the Iran and Iraq oil fields this winter.

By this reasoning the conclusion has been reached that a nazi defeat can only be accomplished if we outproduce him in war materials by a substantial margin.

But you can also see this reasoning leads you to the goal of a new A. E. F. to fight in Europe, Asia, Africa. Certainly the British have sufficient men to handle all the armaments this program supposes we will be producing a year or two hence.

DEFENDING THE MIDDLE CLASSES

(Excerpts from editorial in the Wall Street Journal, Oct. 15, 1941)

... The middle class generally includes everyone who has some property... Anyone who owns a house or a shop or a factory—any "real" property—is middle class. Anyone who owns a savings bank deposit is middle class. Anyone who owns some shares of stock, some bonds, a mortgage, or any form of investment is middle class. Insurance policies which accumulate a cash surrender value are also property.

All these forms of property, other than "real" property in personal use, depend for their worth first upon law and particularly upon the law of contract, and next upon custom and code behind the law. Assuming that physical ownership of any of them is not interfered with, their value to the owner depends upon the real income which they yield to him. That value can be diminished or increased by anything which affects that real income.

Income from property-in-use (stock in industrial and commercial corporations) can be diminished by heavy taxation, or by "social" legislation creating new costs or interference with methods of operation.

Also, any tampering with the notion of contract can undermine the whole structure of business relations by bringing into question the validity of promises for, as Harry Scherman has said, "Men live by promises."

Coin-clipping or paper money inflation is particularly deadly in the middle class, for that class is largely "money-creditor"—as was demonstrated in France, Germany, Austria, etc. after the last war.

All these things depend upon the state of public morals in a nation and that, in turn, depends upon a nation's traditions and belief. When these are weakened, morals tend to give way under strain of seeming expediency and the whole structure of economic relations begins to crack up. The middle class is the first to feel the shock and feels it worse than do the "tops" and "bottoms."

The middle class in this country is certainly the most numerous. It includes probably three-quarters and perhaps more of the population. As such, theoretically, it should be able to prevent damage to itself through governmental action. It never yet has effectively done so. The reason is that it has no particular "class-consciousness" and is easily deceived by the plausible appeal of demagogues, with the result that a large part of it votes with the "proletarian" group, being quite unaware that it is thus voting its own destruction.

The only way for the middle class to prevent its own ultimate disappearance is for it to learn the things that are for its good, and then to unite in supporting them.

B. F. SHAW PRINTING CO.

By George B. Anderson

"You advertising men," a housewife writes, "are good talkers. You can make a lot of pretty speeches about what advertising does for me. You're great at theorizing. The fact remains, though, that advertising costs money. The merchant has to pay for it, and he has to collect from somebody. It seems to me that I'm nominated."

Mrs. Blank says we're great at theorizing, so I'll try to make as positive and factual a statement as possible.

Advertising gives you direct benefits. Mrs. Blank, by doing these two things:

1. It accelerates free competitive enterprise.

Because of advertising and the merciless spotlight it throws upon one line of goods as opposed to another, it means that a manufacturer or a merchant has to be good if he hopes to stay in business. It means, he can't "fudge" for a minute without getting caught. Because of advertising and through advertising, there's always a competitor ready to take advantage of any mistake any businessman makes. That's a mighty good thing for you, even if it is tough on the merchant.

2. It lowers living costs by widening distribution, thus reducing prices through economies of mass production.

Cigarette manufacturers are mighty large advertisers. You've heard about the amount of money they spend on advertising. Yet if that great amount of money were to be devoted to reducing the price of cigarettes, the amount spent per package of cigarettes on advertising is so small that no saving could be passed on to you. Is that specific enough, Mrs. Blank?

CARDINALS' BOSS CALLS HALAS THE GREATEST COACH

Says Nobody Will Ever Beat the Chicagoan's Team Again

By GAYLE TALBOT

New York, Oct. 28—(AP)—Jimmy Conzelmann, coach of the Chicago Cardinals, has opened a one-man campaign to have George Halas designated as the greatest football genius in the world, and as Jimmy pleads his point in a thin, querulous voice it is plain he is a man who has suffered.

Halas, of course, is the big, tireless citizen who has built and coached the Chicago Bears to such a terrible margin of supremacy over the rest of the National Pro League that the headline on Monday morning always reads: "Bears win, 48-0."

"We might as well face it," said Conzelmann, sadly, "Halas is the greatest coach in the world. Nobody will ever beat those Bears again. The only outside chance of slowing them down is to get them on a good, muddy field. I'm hoping for a heavy snow the night before we play them, and I'm going to have it washed off with a hose."

Other Miserable Coaches

All the time he was making his stirring and impassioned address, Conzelmann looked squarely into the eyes of a couple of brother National League mentors, Jock Sutherland and Steve Owen. They stared back miserably and nodded assent when Jimmy asked if they didn't think the five-man line was the best way to try to stop the Bears' "T" formation.

"I think it is," said Conzelmann, solemnly. "Even after 53 to 7 I still think it is. Of course, when Halas gets to spreading his line around just to be bothersome, why my five men look like a bunch of war refugees wondering where to go next. No matter what defense you use, you can always be sure you will wind up with an 11.5 man trying to head of a 10-second Bear ball carrier."

To point up his remarks, Conzelmann employs a blackboard upon which he illustrates the many dirty things that can be done from the "T" formation, especially with the Halas refinements.

Deserves Credit

"Give Halas credit for what he's done. Maybe he has about wrecked the league, but I'm not going to campaign to break up the Bears. I only wish I had a chance to wreck the league like that myself. The only suggestion I would make is that hereafter in the draft the bottom teams get four or five choices apiece before the top boys get a pick."

With that, Conzelmann sat down, still wearing a puzzled expression.

The Bradley Braves thrive on action.

Bradley's football team polished off New Mexico Aggies Saturday night, 26 to 0, and followed up with a 67 to 0 victory over nomadic Arkansas A. & M. of Monticello last night. The Braves rolled up 14 touchdowns in the two games.

Bradley still is undefeated and untied, having scored 172 points to 13 for five rivals. The Arkansas game was scheduled originally for early October but a driving rainstorm forced postponement.

ATTENDANCE FOR CONNIE MACK'S ATHLETICS GROWS

New York, Oct. 28—(AP)—Connie Mack, for whom the financial gods haven't smiled too often since his great teams of a decade ago, turned the attendance corner with his Philadelphia Athletics during the past season, a survey by The Associated Press discloses.

Unofficial figures assembled since the end of the season show that 641,629 persons saw the Athletics in their 1941 home games in contrast to 432,145 a year ago—a gain of 209,484.

That rise was made despite a drop of 213,272 by the entire eight-club American League.

The National League played to 5,029,689 spectators last season compared with 4,848,300 in 1940 for a gain of 181,389, while the American League figures were 5,220,519 in 1941 and 5,443,791 in 1940.

When an auditor asked him if the Bears were as good on defense as they were on the attack, he thought it over for a few seconds.

"What the hell?" he said. "Defense? Why they've always got the ball."

Big Ten Is Having Banner Year at Box Office and in Victory Column

Chicago, Oct. 28—(AP)—The Big Ten is having a banner season not only at the box office, but also in the little matter of winning football games.

Conference teams have won 12 of 18 games with outsiders. Purdue, Wisconsin and Illinois dropped one each and Indiana lost three before reversing the procedure and whipping Nebraska for a change.

Family members fattened up on Pittsburgh more than anybody else. Purdue, Michigan and Minnesota walloped the once powerful Panthers, scoring 85 points to none. Ohio State will get a crack at the Pitt squad Saturday in one of three non-conference engagements.

Purdue will invade Fordham and Wisconsin will entertain Syracuse. Wisconsin and Ohio State will be favored, but the Boilermakers doubtless will enter the game with the Rams as underdogs.

Since Fritz Crisler became coach at Michigan in 1938 the Wolverines have lost only to Minnesota and Illinois. Guard Tom Melton is expected to be ready for Purdue's invasion of the east this week. Bernie Bierman says the 1941 Michigan eleven is much better than the 1940 machine which featured terrible Tommy Harmon.

If you want a good hot argument just name the Big Ten sophomore of the year. Every school in the circuit, and Notre Dame, too, has at least one newcomer each who is robbing the veterans of headlines every week. ... Billy Hillenbrand, the Indiana

Los Angeles, Oct. 28—(AP)—Promoter Joe Lynch said today he had offered Welterweight Champion Red Cochran $20,000 to meet Jackie Wilson of Los Angeles in a title bout here within the next few weeks.

Wilson, a transplanted Cleveland, has won his last 11 matches and is ranked as the No. 1 lightweight and welterweight in California.

Another offer went to Lightweight Champion Lew Jenkins, guaranteeing him $15,000 to defend his title against Wilson. Wilson last Friday stopped Kid Azteca, veteran Welterweight Champion of Mexico.

Proposes Strikes Be

(Continued from Page 1) by taking "firm measures." Byrd said the president had written "three humble and pleading letters" to Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, asking an end to the strike in captive mines. Bailey's proposal, offered as a "rider" to the pending neutrality repeal legislation, would impose stiff penalties on persons responsible for stopping work in defense industries.

Third Appeal Underlining his third appeal to the C. I. O. mine chief to call off the strike, Roosevelt declared in his Navy Day speech last night that "our nation will and must speak from every assembly line—yes, from every coal mine—in our vast industrial machine."

A few hours earlier, the president had told Lewis: "There is every reason for the continuance of negotiations. 'There is no reason for stoppage of work. 'It is, therefore, essential that the mining of coal should go on without interruption."

Roosevelt gave no hint of the action he would take if Lewis failed to heed his latest manifesto. Everything, however, pointed to an imminent showdown which might affect not only the captive mine strike but the whole future question of labor disputes in defense industries.

Temper Grow Short In congress many tempers were growing short. In the restive atmosphere, talk already was heard of quick legislative action to remedy the situation unless the work stoppage was ended hastily. It was reported that the general subject was touched on briefly during the president's conference with congressional leaders yesterday.

The United States Steel Corporation, owner of a number of the mines tied up by the walkout of 53,000 C. I. O. members, announced an immediate curtailment of operations at most of its steel mills, which depend for their coal on the captive collieries.

A number of labor leaders privately voiced uneasiness over the situation growing out of the United Mine Workers' demand for a union shop. They feared that if the public's temper became further frayed, there might be legislation—or possibly an executive order—prohibiting compulsory membership in a labor union as a condition of employment or work connected in any way with the defense program, or otherwise sharply circumscribing union activity.

Sole Issue The U. M. W. 's demand for a union shop was the sole issue in the strike which took practical effect yesterday morning in steel company-operated coal mines in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky, Alabama and Illinois. With the union shop in effect, each employee would have to become a member of the union after a probationary period.

The defense mediation board promised a speedy hearing in a C. I. O. strike at the Brooklyn yards of the Robins Drydock & Repair company, where 14 vessels are being overhauled.

President

freedom and in faith." And—amid two great outbursts of applause and cheers from his immediate audience—he struck out against the "selfish obstruction" of defense production by labor disputes.

The first occasion was an inescapable reference to the captive coal mine strike which Roosevelt has thrice asked CIO's John L. Lewis to call off.

"Our nation will and must speak from every assembly line," Roosevelt began, and then departed from his prepared text to interpolate:

"Yes, from every coal mine—from the all-inclusive whole of our vast industrial machine. x x x Our output must be multiplied."

He continued: "It cannot be hampered by the selfish obstruction of a small but dangerous minority of industrial managers who hold out for extra profits, or for 'business as usual.'"

"It cannot be hampered by the selfish obstruction of a small but dangerous minority of labor leaders who are a menace. . . ."

Applause and cheers halted him momentarily here, but presently he was able to continue:

"...For labor as a whole knows that small minority is a menace to the cause of labor itself, as well as to the nation as a whole."

Annual Navy Dinner The setting for the president's address was the annual dinner of the Navy League in the glittering ballroom of the Mayflower hotel. There were uniforms and gold braid in profusion. Ensigns, admirals, army and marine corps officers rubbed elbows, and shared tables with congressmen, members of the judiciary and representatives of foreign countries—the fare for fo'c'sle fare—navy bean soup, fat back and cabbage, and navy brisquet, Mulligan style.

At the very outset Roosevelt indicted Hitler for attacking shipping in "areas close to the Americas in the north and south Atlantic."

He cited the loss of American merchantmen and the two torpedo attacks on U. S. destroyers—the unsuccessful one on the Greer, and the one that damaged the Kearny, killing eleven and wounding ten of her crew.

"We have wished to avoid shooting," he said. "But the shooting has started. And history has recorded who fired the first shot. In the long run, however, all that will matter is who fired the last shot."

Used Iron Tones Roosevelt referred in ironic tones to Hitler's frequent protestations "that his plans for conquest do not extend across the Atlantic ocean."

"But," he commented, "his submarines and raiders prove otherwise. And so does the entire design of his world order."

"For example, I have in my possession a secret map made in Germany by Hitler's government—the planners of the new world order. It is a map of South America and a part of Central America, as Hitler proposes to reorganize it."

"Today in this area there are fourteen separate countries. But the geographical experts in Berlin, however, have ruthlessly obliterated all existing boundary lines. They have divided South America into five vassal states, bringing the whole continent under their domination."

"And they have also arranged it that the territory of one of these new puppet states includes the Republic of Panama and our great life-line—the Panama Canal."

"This is his plan. It will never go into effect."

"And that map, my friends, makes clear the Nazi design not only against South America but against the United States itself."

Subject of Religion The president then turned to the subject of religion.

"Your government has in its possession another document made in Germany by Hitler's government. It is a detailed plan, which, for obvious reasons, the Nazis did not and do not wish to publicize just yet, but which they are ready to impose a little later on a dominated world—if Hitler wins."

"It is a plan to abolish all existing religions—Catholic, Protestant, Mohammedan, Hindu, Buddhist and Jewish alike. The property of all churches will be seized by the reich and its puppets. The cross and all other symbols of religion are to be forbidden. The clergy are to be forever liquidated."

—silenced under penalty of the concentration camp. . . . "In place of the churches of our civilization, there is to be set up an international Nazi church—a church which will be served by the orators sent out by the Nazi government. In the place of the Bible, the words of Mein Kampf will be imposed and enforced as holy writ. And in place of the Cross of Christ will be put two symbols—the swastika and the naked sword."

Seattle, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Miller had retired. A flashlight beam from an open window pierced the darkness of their bedroom and a man's voice ordered: "Throw me those pants." Mrs. Miller tossed out her husband's trousers, which contained one dollar. The man and pants vanished.

The War Today

imprisonment of clergymen, of the destruction of synagogues, of the separation of children from religious instruction or of the subtle but steady replacement of religious by pagan symbols. Before the war this was a continued story and no particular attempt was made to conceal it.

Hitler had another reason for these things to be forgotten: There were other deeply religious countries in Europe which he needed for his "New Order," and he regarded it best that their suspicions of Nazi neopaganism be allayed, both before and after they were conquered or persuaded.

Especially was this true when he turned against Russia and, in what he called a holy war, set out to "safeguard Europe and thus save all."

Careful readers of Hitler's speeches have noted, since the start of the war, repeated references to the Almighty, invocations of Divine aid, and expressions of conviction that God is on the side of Nazi Germany. Indeed, Hitler has gone so far as to say that this last had been proved by Germany's very victories.

His order of the day to the German soldiers on their invasion of Russia last June 22 concluded with these words: "...The destiny of Europe, the future of the German Reich and the existence of our people is in your hands alone. May Almighty God help us all in this fight!"

Then, this month, he digressed from his winter help speech to explain his theory that the Almighty was one who smiled on the strong, and he concluded: "Nation! Help yourself, then the Lord won't deny his help!"

At one other point he said, in contending that he had tried sincerely to reach an agreement with Poland, No. 1 German victim of this war.

"It must have been Providence which prevented it."

This may be compared with the reports of January and May, 1940 accredited to August, Cardinal Hlond, Primate of Poland, and issued by the Polish embassy to the Vatican, relating a story of death, imprisonment and torture of priests in German-occupied Poland and concluding that "Catholic life is almost entirely extinguished" in that anguished nation.

My Trip To—

Rooney and Judy Garland in "Babes on Broadway." I had lunch with Walter Pidgeon and I enjoyed him very much. He is full of fun and made me feel right at home. While eating I again saw many screen people such as Spencer Tracy, Tarzan Tarzan's son, and many others.

Dines at "Beachcomber"

That evening I went to Louella Parsons' broadcast. This was the first time I had ever seen a big broadcast. Robert Young and Ruth Hussey dramatized "Married Bachelor." After the broadcast we ate at a very famous Chinese restaurant, "Don the Beachcomber." This restaurant is strictly tropical and to emphasize the fact it "rains" for about five minutes every fifteen minutes. It seems so real that a couple of men ran out to roll their car windows up. We had quite a party: Louella Parsons and her husband Doctor Martain, Harriet Parsons and her husband King Kennedy, Louella Parsons' cousin, Gordon Maynard, Mecca Grialiam, Ben Lyons, Bebe Daniels and their two children and I. While eating the delicious Chinese food we happened to see Kay Kyser and "Ginny" Sims and we talked with them for a while.

Later Gordon and I went to the famous Ciro's night club. There weren't many there but I met Dorothy Lamour and talked with her. Also saw the discoverer of Deanna Durbin, Louis Pasternyck.

Sees Dutcher

The next day I went to see Ronald Reagan. He is working on "King's Row" with Robert Cummings, Betty Fields and Ann Sheridan. I had a long talk with Ronnie at noon. He wanted to send his best regards back home. Both Louella Parsons and Ronald Reagan and others who came to Dixon are still talking about it and they wanted to entertain me as well as they could to sort of repay their good time in Dixon. I also met Jane Wyman. It was a thrill when I saw the numerous properties the studios possess. They have absolutely everything, from their own jungle to "Lake Michigan" used in "In Old Chicago."

In the afternoon I went to Louella Parsons' ranch. It is a lovely place and I had a big time out there. I rode horseback and went up on the foothills where the scenery was gorgeous.

My last evening in Hollywood was spent with four kids my own age at the Venice and the other ocean pier amusement park. I had a lot fun—practically wore myself out.

At noon the next day I took the Daylight train to San Francisco. It was beautiful along the ocean and the mountains. Dr. and Mrs. Flowers met me at the train and took me to their estate in San Mateo.

Tours Redwood Park Fairly early the next day Dr. Flowers and I left for a two hundred and thirty mile trip around the Big Basin Redwood park and up the mountains and to many other interesting and amazing places. We ate at the enormous and elaborate Del Monte hotel. We had a big time traveling over the country. That night the three of us, Dr. and Mrs. Flowers and me, went to a stage play and saw the comedy "The Male Animal" with Otto Kruger.

My last day in California was spent on a tour of San Francisco and vicinity. Dr. and Mrs. Flowers took me to Stanford University, across Golden Gate bridge, from where I could see Alcatraz, and many other interesting places. We had dinner at a Chinese restaurant where I learned how to eat with chopsticks. Mrs. Flowers and I spent about two hours shopping in Chinatown. We saw many curious and odd things and Mrs. Flowers knew all about the history and uses of most of the things I wondered about.

Before we went to the station we had a change of atmosphere and ate in a Mexican restaurant. I prefer Chinese, but that is a matter of taste.

As much as I regretted it—it had to happen—I boarded the train and waved good-bye.

I spent two days and three nights coming home on the Overland Limited. I needed the rest too, don't think I didn't.

I consider myself the luckiest and the happiest girl in the world. There are so many people I want to thank, especially the Dixon Lions club and all the other many Dixon organizations that made all this possible. I owe a lot to Louella Parsons who was so very kind to me. With all the work she has to do she took time to see that I was busy every minute. She entertained me splendidly. Dr. and Mrs. Flowers were so thoughtful in showing me the things they knew would interest me.

I just couldn't have had a better time.

Taft Says Repeal

tion in voting to eliminate the neutrality act ban on United States merchantmen sailing into combat zones, as well as backing up the house in providing for arming of the ships.

But Senator Taft was gloomy about the prospects in such a course.

Asserting that it would mean that American ships would be dispatched to British ports through the Nazi submarine blockade, he declared:

"It cannot be doubted that many of these ships would be sunk and many Americans would be drowned. It was just such sinkings and such deaths which took us into the World war. It is an almost inevitable cause of complete war."

"If for six months or a year we carry on a naval war," he continued, "and then it appears to be indecisive, as it will almost certainly be, the time will come when we are forced to take the steps necessary to bring that war to a close."

"A million men may be sufficient to seize Africa. Hardly less than three million will be sufficient to crush Hitler."

Before the president's address, opponents of neutrality act revision declared they were gaining unexpected support. One of them, Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) said "there is a possibility we can defeat the plan to send our ships into danger zones."

But the undoubtedly large group of Democratic and Republican senators who favor reshaping the law appeared undisturbed by such predictions as debate on revision resumed today. They confidently claimed to possess a minimum of 52 votes, four more than a majority.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schwank went to DePue today to attend the funeral of a brother of the former, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident. Believed to have been the victim of a hit and run driver, Schwank, 47, a World War veteran and life long resident of DePue and vicinity, died Sunday morning at 7:30 in St. Margaret's hospital at Spring Valley, where he had been taken after being found unconscious earlier in the morning north of DePue, at the junctions of route 6 and 29.

At an inquest conducted Monday, a verdict of death due to injuries sustained about 1 o'clock Sunday morning, was returned by a coroner's jury. Two Putnam, Ill., motorists discovered the body lying on the highway at the early hour Sunday morning and summoned assistance.

Rat Campaign Is Sponsored by Lee Co. Farm Bureau

On Friday night, October 31st, the rats of Lee County will be given a banquet of Red Squill by the farmers of Lee County. This rat banquet is an annual program which has been carried out by the Lee County Farm Bureau in cooperation with the Extension Service and the United States Fish and Wildlife Service. For the past three years the Farm Bureau has cooperated in this campaign to destroy rats which causes an untold amount of damage in the county each year.

Defense Measure

The Rat Campaign can be called a defense measure this year inasmuch as we are eradicating the rats for the purpose of saving a great deal of feed which can be used to be converted into food for the defense program. Each year the rats cost the people of the United States over $200,000,000 and they destroy as much as 200,000 farmers can produce in one year's period. One pair of rats are so prolific that they could produce 350 million descendants in three years, if they increased uninterrupted. Not only are rats destructive, but they also breed disease. Many germs are carried to human beings and livestock by rats. Bubonic plague, spread through the agency of rats, killed nearly 25,000,000 people during the Middle Ages.

Type of Baits to Use

The type of baits which will be used in the Rat Campaign is made from the Red Squill. Red Squill comes from a plant bulb which grows wild along the coast of the Mediterranean Sea and is injurious to the rat family and mice only. The Red Squill is mixed with two different types of bait, one being made with Red Squill, fish and meal, and the other bait is made with Red Squill, meat and meal. In each package of bait there will be a package from each kind of bait; one of fish and the other of meat. This bait is poisonous only to the rat family and causes death from four hours to four days and usually takes less than a day.

The Red Squill causes death in rats through dilation of the heart and paralysis of respiration. Progressive paralysis in legs and trunk is followed by characteristic rolling motion preceding death. This bait is not poisonous to cats or dogs inasmuch as vomiting is introduced and the poison is eliminated. The cost of the bait per package is 35 cents. This is sold on a non-profit basis, the material being prepared by the United States Biological Survey and the money is sent in to them.

How and When to Bait

The baiting should take place on the afternoon and evening of October 31st. The bait should be distributed along the runways of

Women in Lee County Can Contribute to Defense Production Goals for '42

Lee county farm women can make a practical contribution toward meeting the Farm Defense production goals for 1942 and help the family budget as well by producing more of the foods used in the farm home, says Dale D. Rosenkrans, Chairman of the Lee County Agriculture Defense Board. Pointing out that many lines of food production are now over-expanded because of heavier domestic demand and the requirements of the Lend-Lease program, Mr. Rosenkrans declared that even a small increase on an individual farm would benefit the nation and insure a supply of nutritious foods for the family's use. The products which are most needed are milk, eggs, pork and vegetables.

Women can play a major role in achieving the increased production, Mr. Rosenkrans believes. Lee County farmers have been asked to increase the production of milk from approximately 107,493 pounds this year to 112,972 pounds in 1942. The county goal for eggs is 1,828,000 dozen, compared with an estimated production of 1,708,000 dozen this year. "Most farm families have grown the rats. Each package will make about 100 small baits. One package is usually sufficient unless you have a great many rats and then you would need two packages.

It is necessary that everyone exposes the bait the same day inasmuch as the migration of rats from one premises to another makes it a community problem.

Where Distributed

People desiring rat bait may obtain it from the following places on the evening of the 30th or the morning of the 31st: the Dixon Cold Storage Plant, Kugler's Store at Harlow, the Sublette Farmer's Elevator, the Amboy Cold Storage Plant, the Lee County Grain at Lee Center, Ashton, Steward and Shaw, the Brooklyn Cooperative Elevator, Chaon's Grocery or the Torri Elevator at Compton, the Cooperative Elevator at Paw Paw, the Scarborough Elevator, Vogt's Hardware at Franklin Grove, the Walton Cooperative Elevator and the Eldena Cooperative Elevator.

Each cooperator will pay for his bait at the place where he purchases it. If you have not already sent in your card or given the order to one of the bait distributors, please do so in order that the proper amount of baits can be obtained and placed at the distributing points.

Total passenger car registrations in the U. S. increased by nearly 5,000,000 from 1935 to 1940, and the bulk of that expansion in automobile ownership is believed to have taken place among families with modest incomes.

FRANK PRIEBE'S WEEKLY LETTER to POULTRY RAISERS

This last week I've been driving through Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, and Minnesota. I've never seen so many chickens. Farmyards were white with them.

I began to wonder where people were putting them. I stopped at several places where the houses were practically bulging. At one place they had a good house 20x40 big enough for 200 birds. But they had 350 in it! The litter was damp and they were a little concerned because the birds seemed to have colds. They were losing a few right along and they weren't coming into production as well as they expected. Some of those that were laying had to lay on the damp, dirty litter, because there weren't enough nests—only 25, when there should have been 70 for that many hens!

Those folks are going to be disappointed in their chickens this winter and it's a shame, because you could tell they had some fine pullets in the house. They won't understand why they lose so many and why they don't get more eggs. Next year they'll probably switch to another breed.

They've got good chickens and they've got a good house. They just have too many birds in it. That's all. And a crowded house means TROUBLE: sickness, death losses, and poor production.

Confine Your Layers

Put only as many birds in your laying house as you have room for—and then keep them in. All those chickens I saw out in the farmyards made a fine picture from the road. But dirty eggs don't look so good in a case. And you can't help getting a lot of dirty eggs if the hens are out roaming all over the farm in the kind of weather we've been having the last couple of weeks. They should be kept in—at least until noon. And when you do let them out, it should be on a wire porch or a gravel yard, where they won't pick up a lot of disease germs.

One egg buyer said, "I don't see how it's possible for the eggs to get as dirty as they do. It's hard to believe people are as careless and indifferent about their flocks as these eggs indicate."

The thing that surprised me as much as anything else was to find how few people are taking advantage of the really fine price you can get for good-sized, clean fresh eggs. I found the price for top grade eggs as much as 3, 4, and 5 cents above the price they would bring straight run. And yet about 60 per cent of the people were selling their eggs straight when, with only a little extra care, they could sell eggs that would bring around a dollar a case more.

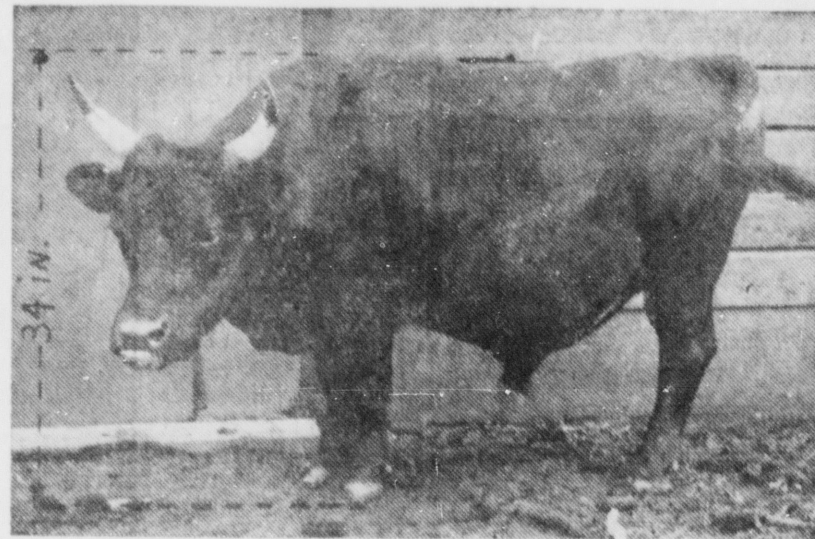

Is money coming in so easily these days we aren't interested in getting the highest price we can? Sincerely yours, FRANK PRIEBE

This herd is well taken care of and properly fed. Each cow's feed is weighed out separately on a scale thus avoiding over feeding also avoiding throwing the cow off feed when in high production. When a cow goes off feed the cost is always high. The value of the

"He's just a little guy, but he thinks he's awfully big. That is why we call him Hitler." The little "toughie" is the 34-inch-high bull owned by Lester Lund, Ohio route 2, one mile west of Kasbeer. The freak animal, weighing 240 pounds, was purchased by Mr. Lund at a stock sale in Sterling recently and the bull is known to be 5 years old but the rest of his "pedigree" is lacking. Mr. Lund explains that the little bull is pugnacious and easily excited. "Likes to fight," he says. Marks for T. B. test in the bull's ear show he was tested in Alabama.

Ralph Salzman, president of the Ashton chapter of Future Farmers of America, is shown here with his pen of purebred lambs which won first prize at the Illinois State Fair this fall. They were undefeated in the five fairs at which they were exhibited this year.

Ralph has been showing Hampshire at state and county fairs for the past four years. His outstanding flock of purebred sheep was started as a F. F. A. project and is today recognized as one of the finest flocks in this part of the state.

As president of the Ashton F. F. A. chapter, young Salzman takes an active part in all of its activities. John D. Rosenberg is the agriculture teacher at Ashton high school under whom Salzman is studying.

Farmers Will Find It Good Business to Increase Soybean Acreages in '42

Farmers will find it good business to increase their acreages of soybeans next year, according to Lee M. Gentry, chairman of the State USDA Defense Board. In line with the Farm Defense Program, AAA acreage allotments will not apply to soybeans in 1942.

With consumption of soybean products smashing all records and still advancing, soybean prices have risen rapidly during the past year and are now double those of a year ago. In fact, soybean prices are now at the highest level since domestic production reached commercial proportions, Mr. Gentry said.

Fair prices and increased demand are expected to continue next year because of the increasingly important role soybean oil is playing in defense production. Increased buying power of the Nation and the discovery of new uses for soybeans will also tend to hold prices and consumption at new high levels, he pointed out. Wide Diversity of Uses Oil taken from soybeans has a wide diversity of uses, both in homes and factories. Linoleum, cosmetics, cooking oil, shortening, and newspaper ink are some of the more common ones. Soybean oil is being used increasingly as a quick drying agent for paints. To some extent, the various vegetable oil may be substituted for one another in industrial and food uses.

Ordinarily the United States uses less than 10 billion pounds of fats and oils each year. But with increased domestic consumption and Lend-Lease demands needs will run more than 10½ billion pounds a year, Mr. Gentry says. Production goals for soybeans call for 7 million acres next year, or an increase of more than a million acres over 1941 and twice the average acreage from 1936 to 1940.

So if Lee county farmers increase their acreage of soybeans, they will not only be carrying their share of the production goals of the Farm Defense Program, but will be adding to their incomes, Mr. Gentry said.

The health of the calves. "Cleaned milk is not clean milk" says Lowell Barclay, Lee County D. H. I. A. Tester. To get clean milk we must keep the milk clean from the second it leaves the cow until it is processed instead of relying upon the strainer to clean it.

Husking Contests Open in LaSalle County October 31

Tonica, Ill.—Some idea of the magnitude of the state and national corn husking contests to be held at the Theodore Schafer farm near Tonica, in LaSalle county Oct. 31 and Nov. 3 may be gained by the fact that the canvas used for tents on the husking grounds could provide a tarpaulin to completely cover, from top to bottom, the Empire State building tallest structure in the world.

The Empire State building, in New York City, is 107 stories high.

Commercial Exhibits

Verne Anderson, in charge of the commercial exhibits at the husking contests, is authority for this statement. There will be 72 exhibitors, a greater number than at any previous national contest—and more agricultural exhibits than were shown at the 1941 Illinois State Fair.

Besides the canvas needed for the exhibits, there will be tents for the food stands, press and radio headquarters, rest rooms and headquarters for various organizations.

Anderson said 100,000 square yards of canvas will be utilized. He added that if stretched, end to end the canvas could provide a canopy to cover four miles of paved highway.

Lee County Farms to Be Canvassed in Defense Work

A canvass of Lee county farmers begins this week to determine their production capacity for meeting the food goals assigned them by the Illinois Agriculture Defense Board.

Between then and December 1st every farmer will be visited by his community AAA committeeman and asked to pledge increased production of some of the products required in larger quantities by the defense effort.

"People are working harder and longer. Appetites are bigger, creating a consumer demand for food never equalled in our history," said Mr. Rosenkrans, Chairman of the Lee County Agricultural Defense Board, composed of local representatives of all United States Department of Agriculture agencies.

Needs for Britain

"Besides the food we're consuming at home, we need more food to fulfill our commitments to Britain. Britain's strength is keeping the war away from our shores. It's up to the American farmer to keep Britain strong by keeping here people well-fed."

The production goals assigned Lee County call for increased production of meats, dairy and poultry products, vegetables and soybeans. Because of the huge surplus now on hand, farmers are asked to sow fewer acres of wheat. They are asked to decrease the production of oats to make room for soybeans. Increased plantings of rye and barley are needed, but farmers are cautioned against over-planting their corn allotments which are about the same as last year.

helpful part of the program and it was agreed that there is much that the church as a whole as well as Christian people individually can do to help about this great national problem. They can use their influence to have adequate education about the effects of alcohol made a part of the school curriculum, as provided in the law of our state; they can protest vigorously against objectionable liquor advertising, both in magazines and newspapers, and over the air. If such advertising which comes into our homes makes any statement that is false, objection should be made at once by letter to the periodical or the radio station doing the advertising. Also, efforts can be concentrated for better liquor control legislation, as well as better enforcement of that which we already have.

The one specific effort which should be made by all churches and all Christian people right now is that of persuading congress that all alcoholic liquors should be abolished from all army and navy training camps. The government has taken the finest of our young men from the homes of the nation to train them for defense; surely the people back home have a right to demand that a force which will lessen their physical and moral efficiency shall be banished from the camps. All who want to see this done should write an individual, personal letter to each of our U. S. Senators, Scott Lucas and Wayland Brooks, addressing them at Washington, D. C., and asking that they do all in their power to enact S. B. 860, known as the "Sheppard Bill," into the law of the land.
